DAYTON AND CINCINNATI RAILROAD COMPANY. The annual meeting of this Company was held to-day, at the Company's rooms, 11 West Fourth street, for the purpose of electing thirteen Directors for the ensuing year. The following are the names of the gentlemen elected : Edgar Conkling, Miles Greenwood, Geo. Hatch, Juo. Kennett, Chas. Reemelin, Robt. Hedger, Wm. Loder, H. B. Robson, A. S. Winslow and S. Beresford, Esqs.

A NEW HALL TO BE ERECTED .- The question of an erection of a hall for the purpose of a library and reading-room, has been for some time agitated by the German Roman Catholics. Yesterday they purchased the lot on the northwest corner of Vine and Longworth streets, at cost of $40,000, and now a subscription list is being circulated for the purpose of raising the funds necessary for the erection of the building. The shares have been placed at $50 each, and the object is of such a nature that we doubt not it will be prosecuted to the end without delay.

Correction .- We were mistaken in regard to the residence of the persons who were so badly frightened, on Saturday night, as they returned from the Opera. They were from Mt. Auburn, instead of Walnut Hills, as we have been informed by a gentleman who resides at the lastnamed place, and says that when they go out with ladies, not even an accident will give them an opportunity to escape long enough to get a drink-which was the cause, we believe, which induced the gallants of Saturday night to abandon the omnibus and its precious freight at the time its driver fell.

LIBEL SUIT .- Wm. Tucker, who was charged before Justice John McFall, one day last week, by Mrs. Depper, with constupration, yesterday brought a criminal libel suit against Charles Zalienski, of the Volksblatt, in consequence of something which appeared in that paper in regard to the case before the above-named magistrate. We did not see the offensive article, nor do we know the cause of the suit, but we are sure Mr. Zalienski never wittingly said anything through his paper which was untrue or ungentlemanly. The trial will take place on Wednesday, at two o'clock, before Justice Bell.

POLICE COURT .- In this temple, erected for the punishment of minor offenses, business has of late fallen off lamentably. Yesterday morning, however, Patrick McCabe was fined $5 and costs, and sentenced to the City Prison five days, because, in a drunken fit, he gave evidence that the enemy had stolen away his brains by abusing his wife.

Peter Krash and Henry Tieman were each fined $10 and costs—the former for an assault upon some one in a beer-house, on Vine street, on Sunday morning, and the latter for resisting the officer who attempted to arrest the belligerent Krash.

A fellow named Wm. Duffy was fined $5 for having, in a moment of anger, requested an officer to take his departure for another and a hotter world. This may have been kind in Duffy, but it was also expensive.

James Brown got drunk on Sunday, and was very disorderly. Yesterday morning he paid for it with a swollen head and $1, together 20 with the cost of his arrest.

LAW REPORT. SUPERIOR COURT.

SUPERIOR COURT.

CASES DECIDED.—G. W. Skaits vs. Samuel Lewis and others. Judge Gholson dispensed of this case. The petition states that plaintiff obtained a judgment against S. Lewis—that he caseed execution to issue, which was returned "no property whereon to levy"—that Lewis was a partner with Harwood & Marsh, and as such entitled to one-third interest in certain lands, and also of the personal property of the firm. By an also of the personal property of the firm. By an entitled petition, Ahigai Lewis was made defendant, it being stated that she claimed an interest isaid property by an assignment from 8. Lewis, which assignment the plaintiff claimed was fraudient and void.

assignment the plaintiff chaimed was fraudulent and void.

It appeared that Lewis, being embarrassed, desired to pay his mother a portion of her debt by transfer of his interest; but the mode in which this transfer was made was peculiar in providing for a continuance of possession on the pert of 8. Lewis, and use of the property and share of the profits as before.

A lengthened opinion was delivered in the case—the rosult of which was, that the assignment in this case outsins a stipulation which, according to the established rule in Ohlo, could not be explained, and which rendered the assignment void as to creditors. It was unnecessary this Court should examine the sufficiency of the explanation, as to such an unusual stipulation as the one found in this case, in an assignment tonder the court had considered it, while the parties may have intended what was right—and there was nothing wrong in the son paying a debt to the mother—they were not satisfied that the mode adopted would be regarded as within the rules of law on this subject. Judgment for plaintiff.

The Wood Spritting Machine,—Fuller & Norton

for plaintiff.

The Wood Splitting Machine,—Fuller & Norton vs. Luckenbach & Thomas. Judgs Storer gave an optnion in this case—an action to settle partnership accounts. He found that the purchase by Thomas of the machine, at Constable's sale, was invalid and passed no title; also, that a receiver be appointed to take pelession of the machine and other property of the firm, and make a report to the Court by the 25th inst.

Jolliffe & Headington for plaintiff; Lee for defense.

COMMON PLEAS.

THE BECKLEY MURDER TRIAL-SEVENTH DAY-AN-OTHER ADJOURNMENT.—Judge Carter took his seat on the bench at nine o'clock. After the jurors in the Beckley case took their seats, the Court inquired whether there had been any return to the process whether there had been any return to issued for the absent witnesses.

The Deputy Shorid replied that the witnesses had not been found, and then proceeded to make some private communication to the Court.

Joses Backlev (the uncle of the prisoner) was then directed by the Court to take the stand, and was interrogated by the Judge as follows:

Q.—De you know a Mrs. Shiner? A.—Tes, sir.

Q.—Where does she live? A.—In the town of California.

G.—Where does and Ya.—Rate to the forming Q.—Did you, Geo. Hughes and Samuel Gordon drive out last week to her place in a buggs? A.—Yes; I went by invitation of Hughes and Gordon. Q.—Bid you go to see her about harboring a party subponsed as a witness in this case? A.—I did not. Q.—Had your visit any thing to do with this case? A.—It had not. Q.—De you know the "O. Q.—Do you know the "O. K." barber-shop on Third street? A.—I do.
Q.—Did you ever say in the presence of the proprietor of that shop that Thompson had got $200 to absent himsel? A.—I made a remark of an entirely different character, I said, in the presence of Mr. Shea, that I would give $30 if I could tell where Thompson was, and I say so still.
Conti—(to the State's Attorney)—Any question? Mr. Gaines—No, sir.
Court—(to the prisoner's counsel)—Have you sny? Judge $3000ner—None, but we desire to except to this examination by your Honor.
The State intimated that they wished to sak Mr. Beckley a question.
Court—Call him.
Wm. Beckley was then interrogated as to whether he had ordered suits of clothes, at Simon's tailor shop, for Geo. Hughes and another witness in this case. He replied that Simon asked him if these me were good for clothes they had themselves ordered, and he roplied they were—that they worked for his brother, and he would be responsible for them.

Wm. Beckman examined.—Saw these men at Simon's store; saw Beckley there also; did not know whether the clothes were paid for. Knew nothing of the transaction except what he had heard from Simon.

Samuel Simon deposed that Wm. Beckley came to Simon. Samuel Simon deposed that Wm. Beckley came to his store, two weeks ago, and said that two roung men working for his brother wanted clothes, and he recommended them as good for the money.

Thomas Downing tostified that the Wainut street ferry stopped running at twelve o'clock at night; after that passengers crossed in a skiff.

Mr. Gaines-We have no further testimony. Court—The process of the Court which has been issued in this case must be served if possible. Gentlemen of the Jury, you will remain under the castody of the Sheriff until half-pass nime o'clock to-merrow morning.

COVINGTON AND CINCINNATI BRIDGE. - The annual report of this company has been presented to the shareholders. The exhibit, up to Feb. 16, shows a balance in hand of $22,-865 28, consisting of City bonds $13,000, and bills received and cash $9,865 28. The Engineer expresses his apprehension of the work being temporarily stopped for want of funds, but would, nevertheless, hope that if the true state of the work were generally known, and its inferred stock would be subscribed to insure its speedy completion. He adds: It is now proposed to raise a further subscription of $500,000 as a preferred stock, which together with a large subscription that is offered various parties in materials, will insure ceed in raising this amount, we can complete the whole structure in two to three years.

MEETING LAST NIGHT .- A preliminary meet ng of the "Opposition" of the Ninth Ward was held last evening, at 600 Main street-'over the Rhine." The number present was between one hundred and fifty and two hundred persons. The meeting being called to order, S. Swartz, Esq., was called to the Chair, and M. B. Hagans, Esq., was appointed Secretary. Addresses were delivered by Thomas Spooner, Esq., James Elliott, Esq., Dr. Menzies and others. The resolutions passed on the occasion were as follows:

Resolved, That we condemn the action of our Legislature by which the right to govern our-selves is attempted to be taken away, by the passage of the recent Police Bill, and that we arge immediate steps to test its constitution-ality.

Resolved, That in this Police Bill we have another example of the inconsistency of the Democratic party, who in 1856 were for squatter severeignty, and now in Ohio are for depriving the people of the power of managing their own affairs; and it becomes all good citizens to brand the Police Bill as a monstrous attack upon the sovereignty of the people.

upon the sovereignty of the people.

Resolved, That the Republican Legisla ture of Massachusetts-who have recently submitted to the people an amendment to the Con-stitution of the State, whereby all foreigner who become naturalized citizens, shall be subjected to a further probation of two years be-fore they shall be entitled to vote—have pro-posed a distinction unjust to a large portion of our fellow-citizens; and we heartily any attempt, for any citizen, to disfranchis the citizen as unwarrantable to the last degree. At the close it was announced that another meeting would be held in the same place, at half-past seven, next Monday evening, for the purpose of organization and the choice of a ticket.

SCHOOL BOARD-LAST NIGHT'S PROCEED NGS.—A communication was received from Messrs. Eggers and Wilde, submitting therewith thirty-six copies of a German Fourth Reader, designed for the use of the German Reader, designed for the use of the German pupils of our Public Schools. Referred to the Committee on Course of Study and German-English Committee for report.

rence of Council.

Mr. S. B. Williams offered a resolution appointing a special committee of three to ascer-tain what offers may be had for such real estate, under the control of the Board, as may be desirable to sell. Adopted, and Messrs. S. B. Williams, R. K. Paine and James F. Irwin

Judge James offered the following as a standing rule:
Resolved, That no contract for building new school-houses, or additions to the old houses shall be entered into, unless the funds in the treasury shall be sufficient for the purpose, after setting apart a sufficient sum to defray the the remainder of the year. Laid over.

The resignation of Miss Sarepta King, of the Fifth District, was accepted, and the usual certificate awarded. The usual monthly bills were passed.

The Board then adjourned.

A Young German named C. Mache, was taken to the Ninth-street Station-house yesterday, suffering with delirium tremens. He had rushed, in his madness, into the Catholic church on Race street, and threatened to kill himself, at the same time sweering he would die before morning. If this assertion prove not true, he will be disposed of at the Police Court to-day.

Last evening an omnibus, in a most dilapidated condition, lay at the corner of Race and Third streets. The horses ran away and broke it to pieces, without, we believe, injuring any person-the passengers having escaped when the horses first began to run.

THE PRESS .- Our circulation is increasing so spidly that we deem it a duty we owe to the business community to make it known. We are aware that the general impression in regard to new enterprises, and more especially newspapers, is, that it requires considerable time to elapse from the day of its establishment before it can justly claim those favors so liberally enjoyed by its older cotemporaries. Although we are yet, comparatively, in our infancy, we are able to walk side by side with those old enough to be our fathers. Our local circulation is now equal to any paper in the city-a fact worthy the consideration of all business men. The Pauss is taken by all classes of people-high and low, rich and poor-the merchant, the mechanic, the professional man, all read the Pages; and those who wish to have their business brought before the people, should advertise in a paper taken by the people-and such Pren's Opena House .- The house last night. was well filled, and Madame Colson sung the sympathetic music of "Amina" sweetly, and looked and acted the part charmingly. Her pensive eyes; her voice, so pure and fresh; her delicate mouth, which gives out sweet sounds as a rose-bud gives forth fragrance; her abandon, and the completeness with which she assumes the character she intends to portray, have all tended to make her a favorite, and will keep her such while love of art remains with those who have heard her. M'lle Simon, as "Lisa." Brigneli, as "Elvino," and Amodio, as the "Count," were each in their way fine while the orchestra played in better time and with more precision than upon any previous occasion. To-night the magnificent Parod sings "Norms," with Junea as "Oroveso," and Squires as "Pollio." To-morrow the troupe will give a concert, which will embrace vocal selections from some of the finest sacred music of the greatest masters, together with three overtures by the orchestra. Here is such a musical treat in store for our citizens as they have never before been invited to, and we feel will fill the house. SINGULAR OCCURRENCE AT THE JAIL .- John Kaine, who, it will be remembered, was con victed of the murder of Singleton a few years ago, was baptized yesterday in the Jail by Revs. George G. Lambertson and J. M. Straeffer. After having been sent to Columbus where he remained for two years, he is now awaiting a new trial, and has in the mean time become a convert, and has also been baptized into the faith.

MANUMITTED .- A man named Reuben Wright, from New Orleans, went into the Probate Court. yesterday afternoon, and procured the necessary papers for manumitting Agnes Wright who, although a slave, was white as himself She was quite young, and was dressed elegantly and fashionably, and looked as much like a serf as a Fourth-street belle looks like a female

A COUPLE of little fellows, named Chas. Hays and Barney Owens, went out to the House of Refuge, yesterday, and threw tobacco over the wall, and otherwise behaved themselves quite badly. They were arrested by a party of boys belonging to the institution, and will have hearing to-day before Judge Pruden.

MAN KNOCKED DOWN AND ROBBED .- A car penter, named Charles Pervis, was knocked down on the corner of Water and Plum streets, and robbed of $15 in money and a couple of notes of $150 each, together with a few other articles of smaller value.

HOME INTERESTS.

Lewis's Boot and Shoe Emporium .-This establishment is located on Fourth street near Vine, and, we believe, is pretty generally known. However that may be, we must say a few words as to its merits, feeling assured that those who may be directed thither by our notice, will thank us heartily for our pains.

Mr. Lewis manufactures Ladies' Fancy Shoes and Gaiters, "also Gentlemen's and Children's fancy wear. His business is pretty much of what our ancestors would have called a "bespoke business;" that is, he has such an extended list of regular customers, that his transactions are not so much with casual purchasers as with constant, yearly patrons. This circumstance, alone, is of itself sufficient to make a prima facie case in favor of the manufacturer; for the thought is not to be entertained for a moment, that intelligent ladies and gentlemen, who know the importance of getting full value for their money, as well as the best among the Wall-street financiers, would stupidly continue to "order" work of Mr. Lewis, if experience of its excellence did not justify them in their conduct.

While Lewis is on Fourth street, it is unnecessary for ladies to go or send to New York to have nice-fitting Gaiters made, for this, their fellow-citizen can have them made as neatly, and as close fitting, as any maker in the world; and what we say of his skill as to ladies' manufacture, we can say the same, with good confidence, as to gentlemen's boots, shoes and gaiters.

Country ladies are specially invited to call on Mr. Lewis; many of them, when coming into the city, feel at a loss to know upon whom to bestow their patronage-and they feel a want of a friendly guide. Let such, therefore, enter upon their tablets the name and address of Lewis, Boot, Shoe and Gaiter Emporium, Fourth street, near Vine.

The Flag, Pictorial, Gleason's Weekly, New York Mercury, New York Weekly and the Stars and Stripes for this week, can be had between ten and eleven o'clock to-day, at Hutchinson's Book-store, Vine street, next door to Gazette office.

Extra Lectures on Phrenology-Prof. Fowler will give two extra lectures, in Smith & Nixon's Hall, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, March 22d and 23d. Doors open at seven o'clock, lectures commence at eight, and close with public examinations. Tickets only twenty-five cents.

Zephyr Worsted and Fancy Goods STORE .- Our lady friends are, no doubt, perfectly familiar with the store of Mr. Gronge ATKINS, No. 102 Fifth street, between Vine and Race. But should there be even one among them who is unfortunately ignorant of the place, we trust she will make a note of the address, and give this emporium of Wools and Fancy Goods a call without unnecessary delay.

The Worsteds include the Berlin Zephyr, Tapestry, German, Chine, Knitting, Split and Brilliant. They are of all colors and degrees of fineness-both those for knitting and those for worked patterns.

The purchaser will find here Canvas for Embroidery-Linen and Cotton; Needles-Sewing, Crochet, Tambour, Darning, &c.; Floss Silk, Embreidery Silk, Chenille, Twists, Tapes, Bobbins, Bindings, Working Cottons, Pins, Fringes, Stilettoes, Ribbons, Elastic Garters, Combs and Brushes, Gimps, Galloons, Buttons, Purses and Bags, Cards, Tassels, Embroidery articles, Lamp Mats, &c.

The attention of the ladies is particularly invited to the stock of splendid Beads which Mr. Atkins has the pleasure of being able to exhibit for sale ; also, to the articles for Crochet Work, of which he has a rare variety and in good supply. His stock of Corsets includes French, English and American manufacture; and his Corset Busks, which are in wood, steel, brass and German silver, are particularly attractive.

But we must close, after remarking that the supply of Silk Embroidery and Infant's wearing apparel will be certain of exciting peculiar interest.

Ladies, remember the name and address-George Atkins, 102 Fifth street, between Vine

Applegate & Co., Publishers and Booksellers, show no signs of fatigue in that noble campaign against ignorance, which they ommenced with true American spirit many years back. They exhibit no symptoms of yielding the field to younger cavaliers in the Publishing enterprise; nor have they yet uttered the exclamation, "We have finished our course, and shall retire from further contest and glory." Oh, no! they are hale and hearty as ever-still in their prime-still bringing their heavy guns as well as light calibre to bear upon the ramparts of blind prejudice. fanatical speculation, or stolid ignorance. Who wants good books, useful books, books upon all subjects, books for both sexes, books for all seasons, for all classes-let them give Applegate & Co. a call at their old stand, on lower Main street. Beside books, stationery, chees, &c., will be found in this extensive store.

Books on Phrenology, Physiology, Self-culture, Memory, Marriage, and all of Fowler & Wells' publications, are sold wholesale and retail by A. Hutchinson, Vine street, above Fourth.

Mr. Cowen, of No. 22 Fifth street, has lately associated with him Mr. Bloom, formerly of No. 14 Fifth street. Two such artists as these are sufficient guarantee as to the quality of their work.

Mn. Ws. GUILYOND.

Dear Sit.—I am very glad to hear of the success of your medicine, which certainly did the thing for my little boy of twelve, which I had almost despaired of over seeing done. Georgie has been subject for several years to attacks of the throat and breast, which have given me much uneasiness: for once begun, I have found them very difficult to cure. He had been suffering for more than two months from incessant coughing, succeing, tickling in the throat and weak eyes, till at least he lost flesh appetite and strength to an alarming degree. All my appliances, medical and physiological, had falled of effect when I began with your medicine. In one week the cough ceased;—at the end of a fortnight he began to recover color, appetite and vigor, and I think he has resited exposure as he could not do before. Only once has he been obliged to resume it, and that was on the occasion of taking cold, when he immediately came for "Mr. Guilford's medicine," and in the course of twenty-four hours was quite well again.

Yours, with respect,

MARY MANN.
